Making the group work

Use this sheet to help you and your group work together successfully. You are going to use discussion and debate to arrive at a common decision. Your discussion question is:

Which of the ten famous Britons has done the most for Britain and most deserves the title 'Best Briton'?

Names of our group members:		Which Briton do I think is best?
Name of group leader:		Was I able to put forward my opinion to my group?
Was there a difference in opinion between group members? What about?	How well did we compromise? How did we reach common agreement?	Did group members back up opinions with evidence? Did this change my views?
In the end, we agreed that the 'Best Briton' should be because	How happy am I with this agreement?	Who is going to present our argument?
