

Making a move

Cut out the four parts of the story and put them into the correct order. Which words or phrases contain clues about where it should be placed?

At the end of the day, Jack met Dad at the gate. Jack had a big smile on his face. “Now I think new schools are good,” Jack said, “when you’ve got a helpful friend.”	Meanwhile, somebody had spotted Jack. “You look lost. Can I help?” she asked. “I’ve got no one to play with,” mumbled Jack. “No problem,” replied the girl. “That’s what I’m here for. Come and join our game.”
When playtime came it was just as Jack had feared. The crowded playground was full of running, chatting, playing children, but nobody talked to him. He stood still, feeling miserable.	It was Jack’s first morning at his new school. He did not want to go because all of his friends were at his old school. He found it hard to say goodbye to Dad.
