

Beginnings and endings

Which of these story parts are from the beginning of a story and which are endings?

Long, long ago, small people lived under the sea. They were called Mer-people. They had no worries – until one day...

After that, Sam did everything that Mr Magic told him. And guess what? Sam never turned into a pig again.

Once upon a time there was a boy in a blue jacket. People called him Little Boy Blue. They did not know about the jacket’s powers.

It was 1 January, the first day of a new year. Sasha got up early as usual and went with her father to fetch the cows.

Carl lay in bed, thinking about his wonderful day. He had won the race and the gold medal! He smiled and fell fast asleep.

From that day on, the little seahorse and his family were left in peace by the fishermen. They lived happily ever after in the sea.
