MAKE YOUR OWN PAPER BUNTING

When war broke out in 1939, many Commonwealth nations sent men to fight alongside Great Britain. It is important to remember the sacrifices made by citizens of all members of the Commonwealth, as well as members of the Allied Forces.

This bunting is designed to help commemorate the soldiers and citizens from various Commonwealth nations and Allied Forces who lost their lives in the Second World War.

On the next few pages you will find flag bunting highlighting some of the Commonwealth nation and Allied Forces countries who contributed to the war effort. We also have a template for you to print and draw on – you can add flags of other contributing countries or even write messages of thanks on for those who contributed to the war effort.

Instructions:

Print your desired flag bunting, or print the template and make your own!

You will need a long piece of string or ribbon for hanging.

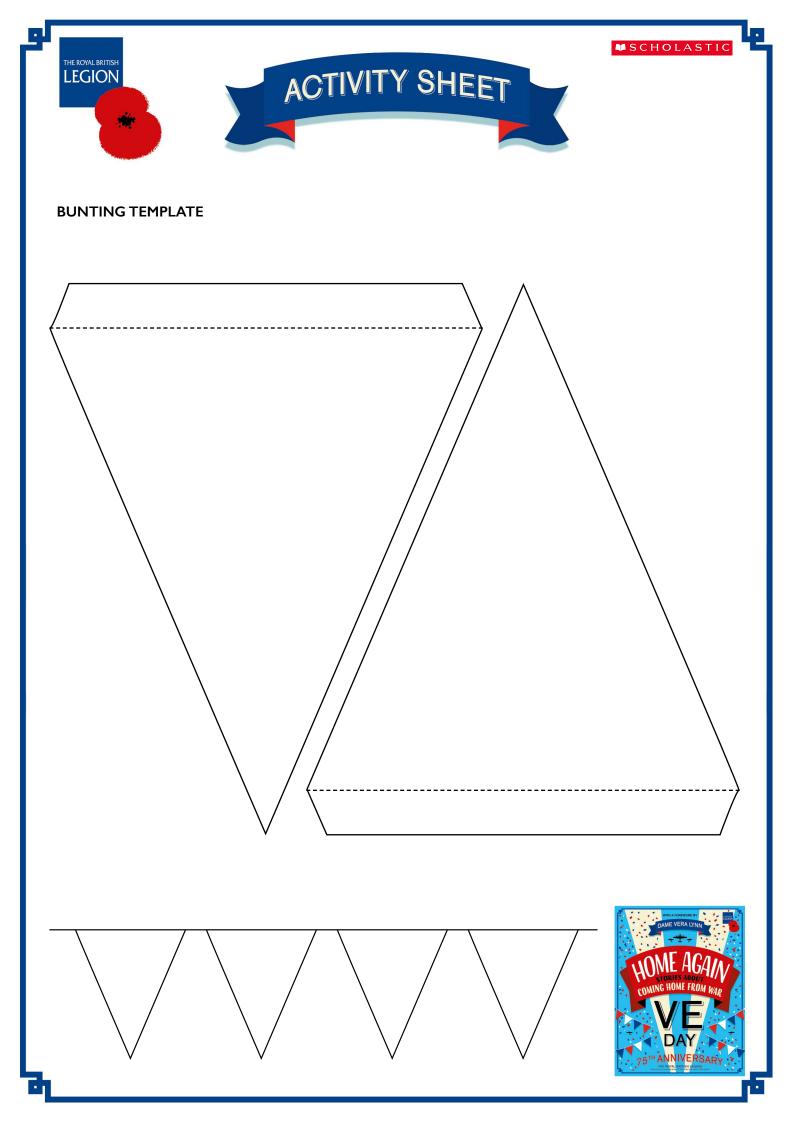

Cut the bunting to the outside lines.

Fold along the dotted line at the top of each flag.

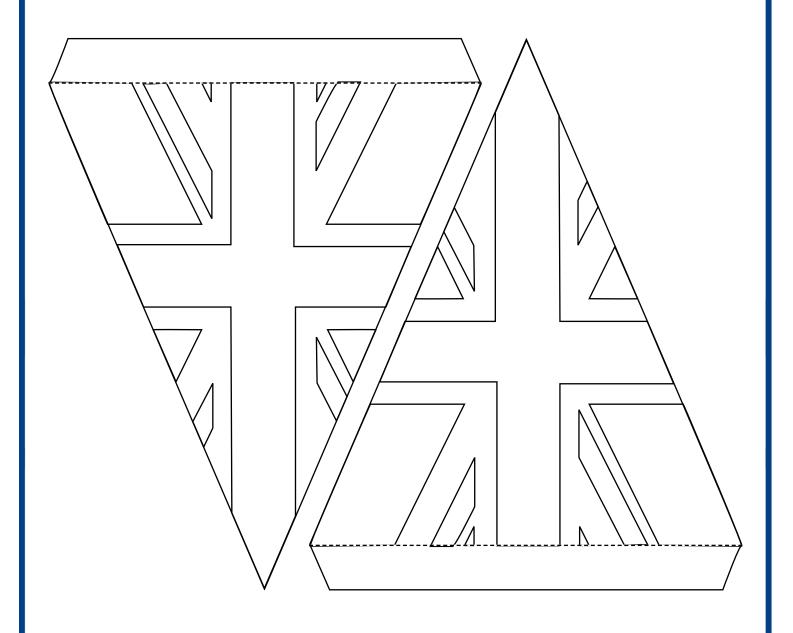

Glue the tab down to the dotted line, over the string or ribbon. Repeat for each individual piece of bunting.

Then hang as desired!

CARROT CAKE RECIPE

Carrots became a staple food during the war. They were nutritious, could be grown at home and were naturally sweet. Carrots were often used instead of sugar in recipes such as cakes so the family's precious sugar ration could be used for other things. Carrot cakes were a particularly popular wartime cake. Commemorate the Second World War by making a wartime carrot cake.

WARTIME CARROT CAKE

- Preparation time 20 minutes
- Cooking time 40-45 minutes
- Serves 6

Ingredients

230g self-raising flour

85g margarine or cooking fat

85g sugar

115g finely grated carrot

55g sultanas

A little milk or water

I reconstituted dried egg or I fresh egg

Method

- I. Preheat oven to 220°C / 200°C (fan) / gas mark 7.
- 2. Sift the flour into a mixing bowl.
- 3. Rub in the margarine or cooking fat.
- 4. Add sugar, carrot, sultanas and egg. Mix well and then add sufficient milk or water to make sticky.
- 5. Pour mixture into a lined baking tin and cook in the over for 40-45 minutes or until golden in colour.

STORY STARTER

Home Again celebrates the importance of home, and now in 2020 we understand just how vital our homes truly are. For us, home is a place of safety, but for the Second World War generation things were not always that simple.

Using the start of 'Home From Home' by E.L. Norry from Home Again, write your own story about coming home.

"I jerk awake, the image of glass raining from the sky fresh in my mind."

QUESTIONNAIRE

While commemorating the Second World War, it is important to give thanks to those who came before us, for the sacrifices they and their families made for us. It is also important to preserve the legacy of our families.

The below questionnaire has been designed for you to capture the legacy of your grandparents, parents, family friends or older relatives.

- I. What is your full name and why were you named that? Did you have any nicknames growing up, or have you ever changed your name?
- 2. Where did you grow up? Can you tell me about what it was like to live there as a child and in a different era?
- 3. What do you remember most about your parents and your childhood?
- 4. Can you tell me a little about your life before the Second World War broke out?
- 5. Can you tell me what life was like during the war? How was daily life different?
- 6. How did the Second World War shape or change your life?
- 7. How did you feel when you heard the war was over?
- 8. How did things change for you after the Second World War?
- 9. Is there one thought you'd like to share about your wartime experience?
- 10. What does home mean to you? Has your idea of home changed over the years?
